By 2030, solar PV is forecast to be the cheapest generation technology in Australia

Australian LCOE¹ estimates for Generation Technologies 2017 to 2040E

Source: Bloomberg New Energy Finance (BNEF), New Energy Outlook 2017

Note: Levelised Cost of Energy (LCOE): Total cost of building and operating an electricity generating facility plant over its life, divided by lifetime generation, and is expressed in dollars per MWh ($/MWh). Assumes coal refurbishment capex is 25% of new build cost. Short run marginal cost includes fixed and variable costs assuming 83% capacity factor for new coal.

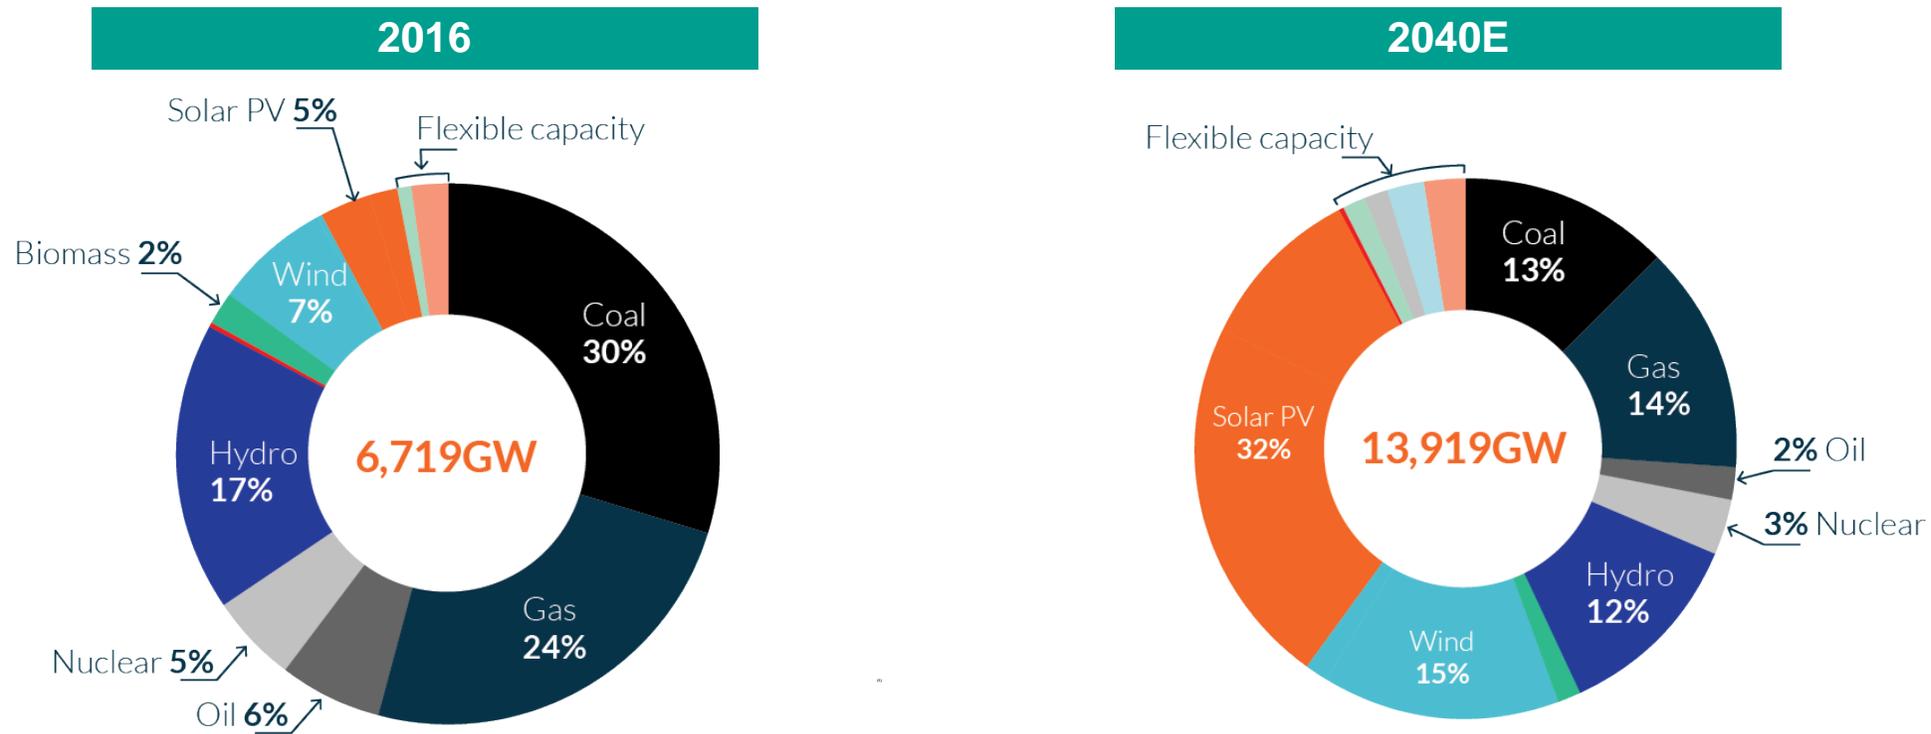

1 Changing the energy mix

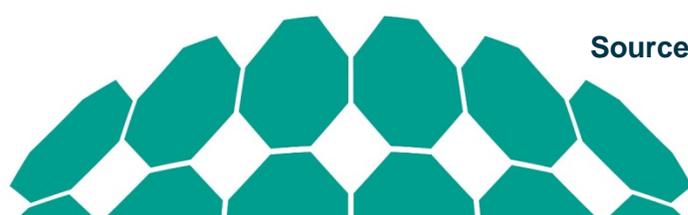

By 2040, solar PV is expected to represent 32% of global installed electricity generation capacity, up from 5% in 2016

2. Solar power plant CO₂ emission reduction calculated using the US Environmental Protection Agency's Avoided Emissions and generation Tool (AVERT). CO₂ emissions displacement is calculated as the emissions that would be produced annually if the same amount of energy was produced by a coal fired plant instead.
3. Based on an average of 4.2 tonnes of CO₂ emissions per car per annum. The "equivalent number of cars" is calculated as the number of cars per annum an equivalent amount of CO₂ in comparison with what is estimated to have been displaced.
4. The Cypress Creek Renewables (CCR) Portfolio is the 14 solar plants which the Business has agreed to acquire from CCR.
